Hey, I'm Cam.

design leader

Cultivating collaboration and inspiring innovation for people-centered design.

About me

I'm Cam. I've been drawing and designing anything I could since the age of Microsoft Paintbrush. Design still captivates me and now love passing on that love to others.

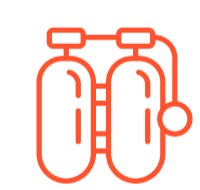

I've got a 16 year old son who I love to adventure with. My friends know I have a hard time sitting still and my environment bleeds into who I am and what I make. Always looking to my next adventure to inspire me.

I love what I do whether it's flying down slopes on a board trying to show up all the kids better than me or designing cool apps I want to use with a team I love laughing with.

How I stay healthy, happy and active

How I lead

Collaborate

Foster a co-creation culture - no idea starts and stays with one individual. We are on a shared journey of struggle and success.

Experiment

Facilitate a 'yes and' approach, taking a cue from improv, of running with and testing bold and gutsy ideas with curiosity.

Empathize

Listening to other perspectives gives us the opportunity to reveal blind spots and understanding each other nurtures trust.

Adapt

Poised to pivot, with a flexible, run-with-the-punches approach.

Advocate

Fight for my team's health, growth, inspiration and innovation.
